Ranger Bear comic series promotes a love of environment protection

June 30, 2010 - Education for Nature – Vietnam (ENV) released a new comic book featuring the full color series of Ranger Bear comic strips that have appeared in the last 14 issues of the popular student nature magazine, Green Forest. The educational series features Ranger Bear, a national hero, and his adventures as he battles to protect nature and the environment with the help of his human and animal friends.

Joining the adventures of Ranger Bear, readers discover more about Vietnam's fascinating wildlife and the difficulties they face resulting from hunting and loss of habitat. When there is danger and fellow animals need help, Ranger Bear is on the way! From protecting coral reef and helping preserve safe habitat for migratory birds to resolving human elephant conflict and rescuing the world's most endangered turtle, Ranger Bear gets the job done.

The new nature comic series will be distributed free to environmental educators and schools participating in ENV's National Environment Education network, currently supporting educators and programs at 42 National Parks and Nature Reserves.

ENV wishes to thank the World Society for the Protection of Animals (WSPA) for supporting this important educational resource.
